"Now, then, you'll have to get out,

"Now, then, you'll have to get out." Senator Barnes crowed gleefully, eyeing the newspaper reporters.

An executive session there would have been, simply to consider the propriety of the proposed adjournment, had not Senator McKay's intention miscarried on account of a parliamentary tangle. There was a motion before the house, the mover of which failed to withdraw it quick enough in his endeavor to clear the road for Senator McKay's motion. The Weber county solon succeeded in withdrawing his own motion, so as not to be discourteous to the other senator, who was frantically trying to get his own motion out of the way. By the time the smoke had cleared everyone had forgotten about the executive session, forgotten about the executive session, so none was held. Wrangled Till Adjournment.

Wrangled Till Adjournment.

Senator McKay was right when he said he thought he noticed a division of sentiment. For three days the senate had spent nearly half its time wrangling over the proposed trip to the Agricultural college in Logan, and more ill-feeling had been developed in the quairrel than in any debate over an important issue. The row was begun again yesterday afternoon and continued for another half-hour in spite of Senator McKay's proverbs. It began when Senator Murdock tried to have a few of the senate officers excused to take the trip.

"What possible good can' it do the state to have the senate officers go on an excursion of this kind?" said Senator Love, who was on his feet in a moment. "There might be some shadow of an excuse for the senate inspecting the college, but there is not the slightest reason for crippling the session merely to give the senate employes a trip. The senators are not honest in the stand they take."

Six Senators to Go. "I object to the aspersions this self-appointed censor of senatorial motives is casting upon the conduct of the ma-jority," said Senator Murdock. "Is it any offense to ask for a vote on this question?"

It was finally agreed that six of the senators should be excused to go on the trip, while the remainder would stay and hold a session. The six excused were Gardner, Williams, Johnson, Barber, Bennion and Barnes.

The members of the house and the six senators will leave Salt Lake for logan and special train over the Orea.

Logan on a special train over the Ore-gon Short Line at 7:45 a. m. today. The train will be in charge of Assistant General Passenger Agent D. S. Spen-

It is expected that the party will reach Logan at 11 o'clock, and it will be met at the station by citizens in sleighs. Thence the members of the legislature and those who accompany them will be taken to the Agricultural college. About 1 o'clock dinner will be served by the domestic science department of the college. After the institution has been inspected the party will be taken back to the station, starting on the return journey at 5 o'clock and reaching Salt Lake at 8 o'clock.

HE SCORES SUPREME JUSTICES. President Allison Criticises Practice Ruling in State Senate.

Justices of the Utah supreme court were severely berated by President Allison of the state senate, speaking from the floor of the house yesterday. Senate bill No. 78, by Lawrence, permitting certifying stenographers' notes as part of the record stenographers' notes as part of the record of a bill of exceptions was up for consideration, and was finally passed without a dissenting vote.

"The supreme court in an unheard-of and nonsensical ruling served notice they would dismiss an appeal in which the stenographic notes were taken as part of the record," declared Senator Allison. "It is none of the supreme court's business to determine what shall constitute an appeal. That is for the district judge to settle. The practice in the United States court has been the same as it was in Utah till this ridiculous ruling was delivered, and it is the same as it, will be when this amendment is made a law."

Other bills passed by the state senate vere as follows:

S. P. 68. by Williams, appropriating practice with respect to replies to counter claims.

S. B. S3, by Williams, permitting changes of venue from city courts.

House joint memorial No. 1, by Spry, petitioning congress for a $75,000 irrigation and reservoir appropriation.

Senator Bamberger's booze bill was resurrected and put on the calendar for reconsideration next Monday.

Senator Love introduced S. B. 116 transferring the platting of present ownership maps from the recorder's to the surveyor's office.

Temporary Offices Burned.

The Keith-O'Brien company had temporary offices in the Atlas block. Their loss amounted to only a few hundred dollars, but in point of inconvenience it is considerable. Invoices, all applications for positions and many valuable papers are now smoudering ashes. Headquarters have been established at the building which the company will occupy. It is the wish of the management that all applications he rewritten and mailed.

Cancer Cured!!

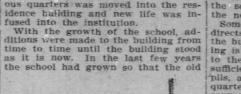

Cancer Cured!!

Mr. W. W. Prickett, Smithfield, Ills, writes, Sept. 10, 1901: "I had been suffering several years with a cancer on my face, which gave me great annoyance and unbearable itching. I was using Ballard's Snow Liniment for a sore leg, and through an accident, I rubbed some of the liniment on the cancer and as it gave me almost instant rellef, I decided to continue to use the liniment on the cancer. In a short time the cancer came out, my face healed up and there is not the slightest scar left. I have implicit faith in the merits of this preparation, and it cannot be too highly recommended." 25c, 56c and $1.00. For sale by Z. C. M. I. drug department.

Rowland Hall, the city's principal school for giris, is to have a new building and be transferred to a new location some time in the near future. It will be with regret that the old school that has stood for so long is abandoned but it has become inadequate for the demands of the growing school and a new and more commodious building must be provided. Plans have been drawn for the handsome building shown above, but as yet a site for the school has not been decided upon. The school has not been decided upon the site of the old school but will probably be erected in the outskirts of the city somewhere.

"When the cat's away the mice will ay," said Senator McKay solemnly esterday in an effort to induce the ate senate to adjourn over today so so members and officers could accompany the lower house on its trip to logan.

DEATH FROM GUNSHOT WOUND. James Young Accidentally Shot by

Fern Brady While Hunting. Mt. Pleasant, Feb. 12.-A fatal accident was an accompaniment of yesterday's rabbit hunt between the gun clubs of this rabbit hunt between the gun ciubs of this city and the hunters of Gunnison. James Young of Fairview was the unfortunate victim of the accident, his death being due to a gunshot wound from a shotgun in the hands of a boy named Fern Brady, also of Fairview.

The accident occurred about 4 o'clock, after the hunt had been in progress about two hours. Neither of the two concerned were in the hunt, nor had they had any! thing to do with it other than as spectators. Both had come down on horseback from Fairview to see the sport, and both had brought guns, Young a revolver and bright the afternoon while following along with the erc wd behind the regular hunting party and had been repeatedly warned that there was danger from their reckless shooting and had been asked to desist. These warnings had been alsed to desist. The warning had been alsed to desist.

standing still, and there were a dozen or more others in the crowd. Brady had just slipped two cartridges into his gun. which was an old-fashioned breech-loader, and in closing it the needle of one barrel came in contact with the cartridge cap and exploded it. Young was about five yards distant and as the gun was pointed straight at him he received the entire charge of shot fairly in the leg about eight or ten inches above the knee.

The wounded man was placed in a rig immediately and brought to town and a doctor secured. He was given every attention possible, but the shock of the dischurge and the excessive hemorrhage from the wound during the trip to town were so great that he could not rally and at about 1 o'clock this morning he died.

Young was of a well known family of this end of the county and was about 22 years of age. He leaves a young wife and four little children besides many other relatives. The remains will be taken to Fairylew for burial.

Brady is only a boy about 11 years of age, whose home is also in Fairview. He can in no way be blamed for the affair, as it was purely accidental. He feels very keenly the position in which he is placed and is really in a bad state himself.

many friends at Petersen's pavilion Friday evening.

A great deal of opposition is manifest in this county against the Barrett pharmacy bill, as it is claimed that it is an outrage, as in every other state country storekeepers are allowed full freedom to sell proprietary medicines. The people out here insist that a proviso be added so that nothing in this act will interfere with the sale of proprietary medicines, the same as the law in practically every state in the Union.

Not much stock is taken by the voters of this county in the protest of the citizens of Utah against the admission of Apostle Reed Smoot to the United States senate, as they do not think the protest will do any good.

CONTEST FOR FAIR MILLIONS

Nelson Family Think They Have a Good Case.

HUSBAND FIRST TO DIE

ACCORDING TO THOSE WHO SAW THE ACCIDENT.

Paris, Feb. 12.-Representatives of the various claimants of the estates of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair are preparing for a severe legal contest at San Francisco, New York and Paris. It is expected here that the filing of the suits in New York/ will be followed by the appointmen of a commission to take the testimony of the French witnesses, whose evidence thus far has been ex-parte. The interests of Mrs. Fair's relatives are being directed by Frank I. Hyde and Donald N. Vanderbilt. Hermann pelrichs' interests are represented by Edmond Kelly. The array of counst is entirely American. Mr. Hyde, who superintended the taking of the affidivits, says the work has been proceeding ever since the Fairs' deaths and that the affidivits establish a prima facic case that Mr. Fair died first; but as the witnesses have not been cross-examined by the other side it will be necessary later either to send the witnesses to the United States or to examine and cross-examine then before a commission here. It is believed that most of the witnesses would gladly avail themselves of the opportunity of making a trip to San Francisco, but there are no means of compelling them to go to America so it may be necessary to examine at least part of the witnesses here. Mr. Hyde also said:

"We have decided not to give the names of the witnesses, as it would furnish ammunition to the enemy and would also subject the witnesses to the annoyance of publicity. You can say, however, that we have secured affidavits from every one in any way connected with the Fairs at the time of the accident. We have not made a selection of special witnesses favorable to our views of the case, but have included every one. This gives the chief importance to their testimony that Mrs. Fair lived the longest. Not one deponent swears she died first and all except one are positive the husband died first. This one exception inclines to neither side. The witnesses do not make their statements as mere deductions from the circumstances, but give the result of the observations of their own eyes. In substance they say they saw Mrs. Fair alive after they saw Mr. Fair dead."

The doctor is the only one giving deductions, as he saw the Fairs after they were both dead. All the others of a commission to take the testimon of the French witnesses, whose evi saw Mrs. Fair alive after they saw Mr. Fair dead."

The doctor is the only one giving deductions, as he saw the Fairs after they were both dead. All the others swear as the result of ocular observation. The affidavits bring out the fact that the circumstances attending the accident were practically the same as reported at the time, but they give sworn accuracy to the details. They show the automobile was going at the rate of sixty or seventy miles an hour when Mr. Fair applied the full force of the powerful brakes to the automobile which is still in possession of Consul General Gowdy, and shows that it did not collide with a tree, for the machine is practically uninjured. The suddenness of the stop shot the occupants of the machine forward to the roadway and Mr. Fair struck head first, the affidavits showing that he died instantly. They also show that Mrs. Fair continued breathing, but died soon after her husband.

When a request was made to Mr. Kelly for affidavits or evidence to be produced by the other side, he said the defense declined to disclose its line of procedure.
